

Creativity: Life By Design

Creativity requires the willingness to suspend easy answers and quick solutions - to step beyond the familiar and the known into uncharted territory where there are no guideposts and the outcome is uncertain. Creativity ultimately is about risk, about courage - the courage to come from nothing into all of it - the courage to step beyond what is for what could be. When you literally must stand on your own, bringing yourself forth from nothing - this is the hallmark of creativity.

In this seminar you will tap into that creativity that generates a real freedom to act - to stand alone and generate new possibilities.
