

Living Passionately

The Art and Mastery of Playing the Game of Life

Many of us have arrived at a level of living where we feel a sense of confidence and effectiveness in dealing with the challenges and opportunities of our lives. At this stage, we often get a glimpse that there is another dimension of life - a dimension of living passionately, of embracing and fully engaging with what matters to us.

The Living Passionately Seminar promises a profound shift in your relationship to being alive. It leaves you playing the game of life with renewed sense of purpose, grace, and ease. In the seminar, you will create a personal charter - an invented direction and foundation from which to build on and forward your passions.
