

Breakthroughs: Living Outside The Box

The intention of this seminar is to unleash your natural ability to cause and expand breakthroughs on demand.

Breakdowns are an integral and critical part of any breakthrough. When we welcome and embrace breakdowns, what they reveal actually affords us a larger opportunity - stepping stones upon which we can expand and extend the breakthroughs. Breakdowns occur only against a background commitment - they are an occasion for extraordinary action, for making something happen that would not have happened otherwise.

A breakthrough is often thought of as a one-time event - a quantum leap that moves us "outside the box." This seminar addresses how to operate powerfully once we are in that new territory - how to manage and sustain a breakthrough and have that new place be a platform for generating the next level of living.
