

SUCCESS: THE POWER OF CONTEXT SENIOR GRADUATE SEMINAR

By application only

The intention of the series is to leave you living, playing and expressing yourself in a new paradigm of success.

Many of us disempower ourselves by comparing ourselves with others, keeping around old conversations of failure, or not meeting our own or others' expectations. We might seek out any of the thousands of books, videos, and seminars on success—how to get ahead, how to gain an edge. While we might learn some useful tools and see improvements, this occurs inside of an existing paradigm.

This seminar does not offer a set of tips and tools for being successful. In this seminar, you will create a whole new paradigm for success, one in which you will be left living, playing, and fully expressing yourself. With a new level of power, you will be able to manage and sustain performance and have that be a platform for generating and experiencing a whole new level of success. This seminar is for people who are out to extend the boundaries of what they know is possible.
