

The Relationships Seminar

The Basics of Love, Partnerships And Romance

INTENTION OF THE SERIES:

To leave you naturally able to generate and express love, partnership and romance.

Love, genuinely and authentically expressed, is enormously powerful. It can connect us profoundly and intimately. Relating – and the quality of our relationships—is of deep, natural, and inherent concern for all of us and like any human endeavor, takes attention, care, and commitment.

In this seminar, you will step beyond what you can strategize or figure out. You will discover a possibility of being related independent of your past, your expectations, your preferences, or your views – a dimension more powerful than personality or circumstance – a dimension where relationships can become an occasion for creativity, vitality, intimacy, and self-expression.
